Meetings held Thursday mornings at 7:00 AM at the Koa Room, Kilauea Military Camp,
Hawaii Volcanoes National Park

It's Labor Day Lobster Time

Thought for the day:

Guests:

Jim & Audrey Wilson, South Hilo
Darla DeVille, South Hilo
Chris Watkins, Chino, CA &
Hawaii

Birthdays & Anniversaries:

8/30 Jeanne Box
8/31 Michael Toles

Other Notes:

The annual Labor Day Lobster event is just a few days away. The meeting this week was mostly a discussion on the need for a special insurance policy for the event. Rotary maintains a policy for Rotary-sponsored events, however it will not work for Labor Day Lobsters. As a part of the permit, the DLNR requires specific language to include the State of Hawaii to also be insured. Rotary will add the state as additionally insured, but not with the specific language required by the DLNR. As a result, President Walburn will be contacting local agents to get the additional insurance for the event. The insurance is a cost that was not expected.

Sunday, August 28th was the last day to report ticket sales to coordinator Lindsay Barclay. The silent auction is coming together with 52 items at the last count. Please let Steve Brantley know as soon as possible if you have any last minute items. The bid sheets and other items will need to be prepared before the event.

At the next meeting, Lindsay Barclay will review tasks for each member for the day of the event.

Rotary Moment was presented by Charter Member Jerry Shimoda. He spoke about World Community Service where Rotary promotes understanding and peace through projects that address health, hunger, and humanity. The important activities are carried out through joint international projects, with exchange students, graduate fellowships, Group Study Exchange (GSE) teams. The Rotary International Foundation frequently is the funding source for projects that will lead to world peace.

What ideas do you have to help the Rotary Club of Volcano raise additional funds for projects and community service?

Bring them to the next meeting!
